PHILOSOPHY

We try to reduce barriers to accessing therapy.

We help people solve personal problems based on the information they are willing to share.

We hope to be involved before a problem becomes a crisis.

We believe that, when a person gets better, it positively impacts everyone in their network of family and friends.

THANKS TO OUR VOLUNTEERS

Services are provided by master and doctoral clinicians in social work, psychology and marriage and family therapy (and advanced graduate students in those fields), who volunteer their time and skills. Lay volunteers support the clinic teams and Walk-In's administrative services.
